

1964

Die-A-Matic becomes a Parker Hose and Fitting Distributor

Manufacturing group begins with acquisition of Allgaier Shops, AAA's exclusive training-device supplier

1975
Die-A-Matic creates new division to expand manufacturing

1978
Y/P Products formed as Die-A-Matic expands into refrigeration components

1981
Specialization begins with formation of Corporate Service Group at 258 W. Market St., York

1990
Specialization by function continues with the creation of SuperStock, our central wholesale warehousing facility in York, PA

Die-A-Matic expands its representation of Parker Fluid Power to Greater Philadelphia

1992
Distribution Group forms Central Customer Service Center in York, PA

2001
RG unifies operations and adopts the RG Group name

2004
RG Group purchases Maple Shade based Van-Air & Hydraulics

2010
RG Group joins Parker's Power Generation Team.

2011
RG Group opens Web Store

2012
RG Group acquires Weaver Fluid Power, Eastern Hydraulic Solutions and Allegheny Fluid Power
Flour Mill earns ISO Certification
Montoursville, PA branch opens

2013
The Parker Racor and Autoclave line of products are added

2024
RG Group acquires Benz Hydraulics

2024
RG Group acquires ASAP Hydraulics

1950

1956

Die-A-Matic organized as an engineering consulting group

1959

The Gross Family buys out investors

1960

1964

Die-A-Matic opens a branch in the Baltimore, MD area

Mid Atlantic Instrumentation established in Baltimore to serve MD and Central PA

1968

Die-A-Matic opens its first branch location in Scranton/Wilkes Barre area

1970

1979

Springfield, VA branch opens to support connector and fluid-power MROs

1980

1982

Mid Atlantic Instrumentation expands to Allentown, Philadelphia and Richmond, VA.

1984

RG Industries created to manage corporate services and acquire W.D. Gross stock

1985

Springfield office closed as Die-A-Matic consolidates in Baltimore

1990

1994

Integrated Products Division formed to focus on integrated supply

1995

RG Group adds four iPower franchises to boost strategic alliances and cut customer costs

1996

Industrial Automation and Controls merges into MidAtlantic Instrumentation Process Division

1999

Die-A-Matic becomes a Parker HTC

RG Group acquires Dev-Air, a pneumatic distributor in Malvern, PA

2000

2006

RG Group refocuses on motion-control growth, sells Y/P Products, and consolidates operations at the new Flour Mill facility

2006

RG Group acquires Powertech Hydraulics in Mahwah, NJ, and Air Hydraulic Sales Co. in Hatboro, PA.

2008

Vineland, NJ Store opens

2010

2014

Mahwah branch becomes Authorized Gast Repair Center

2015

RG Group breaks ground on Flour Mill expansion

2016

RG Group acquires Asdec, Inc. (Destaco/Robohand lines) and Fluid Component Services

2018

RG Group acquires Morse Fluid Technologies

2019

RG Group acquires The Proud Company

2020

